T-LENG TUITION

Tuition Terms & Conditions

Effective from 31 August 2026

These terms set out how lessons are scheduled, charged and cancelled. They are here so that both sides know what to expect, and so that a missed lesson never has to become an awkward conversation.

1. Lessons and scheduling

- Lessons run at a regular weekly slot agreed in advance between the tutor and the parent.
- Each lesson starts and ends at the scheduled time.
- If the student is late or not ready, the lesson still ends at the scheduled time. Lost time is not extended or carried forward.
- If the tutor is late, the lost time is made good in full — by extending the same lesson, adding it to the next lesson, or refunding it pro-rata, whichever suits the parent.
- Extensions requested on the day (for example, before an exam) are subject to the tutor's availability at that time, and are rounded to the nearest half hour and charged at the pro-rated lesson rate.

2. Cancellation and rescheduling by the student

The lesson slot is reserved for the student and the tutor travels to the lesson venue. Notice given by the parent determines the fee payable:

Notice given before lesson start	Fee payable
24 hours or more	No charge — lesson rescheduled, subject to availability
Less than 24 hours, and one of the three options below is taken	No charge
Less than 24 hours, and none of them is taken	50% of the lesson fee
Less than 1 hour, or no-show on arrival	100% of the lesson fee

- Notice must be sent by WhatsApp to +65 9186 6928. A message passed on through the student is not notice.

3. The three no-charge options

Where less than 24 hours' notice is given, no charge applies if any one of the following applies:

- Postponement — the lesson is moved to another slot within the same calendar month, subject to the tutor's availability. Up to two short-notice postponements a month; beyond that the lesson is charged.
- Online — the lesson is held on Zoom or Google Meet at the scheduled time instead.
- Medical or emergency — illness supported by a medical certificate, a medical emergency, or a family emergency or bereavement.

Otherwise, 50% of the lesson fee applies. Cancellation with less than one hour's notice, or a no-show when the tutor has already arrived, is charged in full; genuine emergencies remain at the tutor's discretion.

4. Cancellation by the tutor

- If the tutor has to cancel, notice will be given as early as possible.
- The lesson is either rescheduled at a mutually convenient time or credited in full against the next invoice.

5. Fees and payment

- Fees are agreed with the parent at enrolment and confirmed in writing. They vary by level, subject and lesson duration, and are recorded in the acknowledgement at the end of this document.
- Fees are payable monthly in arrears, within one week of the last lesson of the month.
- Payment by PayNow to +65 9186 6928. Please use the student's name as the reference.
- Any late-cancellation charge, on-the-day extension or transport cost is itemised separately on the monthly invoice.
- If payment is more than 7 days overdue, lessons may be paused until the account is settled.
- The tutor may require fees to be paid in advance — for example after a late or missed payment, or before a block of intensive or holiday lessons. Where advance payment is requested, lessons will only be conducted once payment is received.

6. Fee revision

- Fees are reviewed once a year and on progression to a higher level (for example, Primary 6 to Secondary 1).
- At least two weeks' notice is given before any change takes effect.

7. Public holidays and school breaks

- No lesson is held on a gazetted public holiday unless both sides agree otherwise. Make-up lessons are arranged by agreement.
- For family holidays or overseas trips, please give at least two weeks' notice. No charge applies and no make-up is owed.
- During school holidays the regular slot continues unless the parent says otherwise.

8. Lesson venue and environment

- Lessons need a quiet area with a table, adequate lighting, and the television and personal devices switched off.
- For students under 18, a parent, guardian or other responsible adult should be present at the venue.
- Lessons are held at the address agreed in advance. A permanent change of address needs at least 24 hours' notice, and may attract an additional travel charge if it is significantly further.
- If, on arrival, the parent or student asks to move elsewhere to continue the lesson — a library, a relative's home, a nearby cafe — the tutor will accommodate this where it is reasonable and the setting is suitable for teaching.
- Time spent travelling to the new venue counts as lesson time. The lesson still ends at its scheduled time and is charged in full.
- Any transport cost for that move (taxi or private-hire fare, or the equivalent) is payable by the parent and added to that month's invoice.

9. Online lessons

- Where an in-person lesson is not possible, the lesson may be held on Zoom or Google Meet at the same fee.
- The student should have a charged device, a stable connection, and the lesson materials printed or on hand beforehand.
- Moving a lesson online is one of the three no-charge options in section 3, and is usually the simplest way to save a lesson at short notice.

10. Materials and copyright

- All notes, worksheets, slides and practice papers prepared by T-Leng Tuition remain the property of T-Leng Tuition.
- They are provided for the enrolled student's personal use only, and are not to be copied, shared, sold or uploaded to any file-sharing or study-notes platform.
- Materials are included in the lesson fee unless a printing or binding charge is agreed in advance.

11. Homework and progress

- Homework is assigned at most lessons and is expected to be completed before the next one.
- Where homework is repeatedly not done, lesson time will be spent on it and the parent will be informed.
- Progress updates are shared at the end of each school assessment. Please share school papers and results where possible — they shape what is taught next.

12. Communication

- WhatsApp is the main channel, at +65 9186 6928, between 12.00pm and 10.00pm.
- Replies during lesson hours may be delayed. Anything urgent about a lesson on the day should be sent as early as possible.

13. Pausing or ending lessons

- Either side may end the arrangement by giving at least two weeks' notice.
- Pausing lessons for an extended period also requires at least two weeks' notice.
- Lessons falling within the notice period are charged as normal, whether or not they are attended.
- Fees already paid for lessons not taken are refunded or credited.
- Once lessons stop or are paused, the weekly slot is released and cannot be guaranteed if lessons resume later.

14. Results

- The tutor commits to preparation, teaching and honest feedback on the student's standing.
- Results depend on the student's own effort and consistency, so no specific grade or band is guaranteed.

15. Privacy

- Student and parent details are used only for scheduling, billing and reporting on progress, and are not shared with third parties.
- Student work, results or photographs are used in any publicity only with the parent's written consent.

16. Acknowledgement

Continuing with lessons from the effective date above is taken as acceptance of these terms. A signed copy is appreciated but not required.
